

Dr. Steven R. Janco

Friday, October 17th and Saturday, October 18th
Cathedral Square
360 Division Ave S
Grand Rapids, MI 49503

Join us as we examine the document Sing to the Lord: Music in Divine Worship. As one of the original consultants for this document, Steve Janco will share pastoral, liturgical and textual notions with us, and conduct a lively discussion about the critical issues involved in implementation at the parish level.

This event is intended for pastors, music directors, musicians who lead ensembles, liturgy planners, singers and choir members, instrumentalists, composers, teachers of liturgy and sacred music...all those who lead and plan music.

Dialogue among colleagues will be encouraged as we examine our music programs with a reflective eye toward this new document issued by the USCCB in late 2007. How should this be understood in our parishes? What changes in text might affect those who play and plan music?

Friday, October 17th – Study Day Express

There is no charge for this event.

12:45pm Registration
1-3pm Presentation with Question & Answer

This Express Day is intended to serve the needs of pastors and full-time music directors who have weekday availability. This is a convenient opportunity to understand the focus and demands of the new document, and how to ease into implementation. All other ministries are welcome. This is an abbreviated overview of the Saturday study session provided free of charge.

Saturday, October 18th – In-Depth Study Day

$20.00 per person; $110.00 for parish groups of 6 or more.

9:30am Registration, followed by Morning Prayer and Introductions
10:15am Presentation (Lunch at Noon)
12:45pm Presentation and Reading Session, music included from World Library
2:45pm Closing and Midday Prayer

This In-Depth study includes thorough examination of the Sing to the Lord: Music in Divine Worship document and its application. Also, a music reading session for the Triduum is woven into the presentation, with complementary music packets from World Library.

About Our Presenter

Steve is a pastoral musician, liturgist, and liturgy resources specialist at World Library Publications in Chicago. In addition to being a well known composer and music editor, Dr. Janco leads the Graduate Program in Liturgy and Music at Rensselaer, IN each summer. Steve has been an institute member of the North American Forum on the Catechumenate, and serves on the music staff of the Chicago Office for Divine Worship. He holds Masters Degrees in theology and church music, and completed the Doctor of Ministry degree at the Catholic Theological Union in Chicago. He has had articles and reviews published in many theological and liturgical journals.
